SPEAKERS: The Secrets of the LSAW Conference:

Finally for the first time the deep dark secrets of our annual conference will be revealed. Did you know that 1 out of 3 people at each conference are freebies? That box lunches cost the conference $30 each? That there are less than a half-dozen venues in Washington that can accommodate our conference? That the organizers don't get paid a dime? That the biggest single complaint is regarding handouts; every single year? And did you know that the conference is the ultimate democracy: The conference actively solicits feedback and implements changes accordingly. They actually listen to our members.

Past LSAW conference chair Ben Petersen and current State conference chair Amanda Askren will guide you through the narrow passages and dark underbrush of our annual conference. Bring your machete.

BUSINESS: We will have a General Business Meeting following the meal. See the attached Agenda for information.

Please RSVP!
